ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

2       A rehabilitation equipment includes a base, two upright elastic bars 3    each mounted on the base, a bracket mounted on the two elastic bars and 4    including a substantially U-shaped support portion mounted on the two elastic 5    bars, and a push bar mounted on a mediate portion of the bracket. Thus, the 6    rehabilitation equipment is folded when not in use so as to save the storage
7    space. In addition, the rehabilitation equipment is assembled and disassembled 8    easily and conveniently, thereby facilitating the user using the rehabilitation 9    equipment.
